THIS IS NO ISSUE FOR POLITICIANS

Ed Menninger of The Stuart News maintains his record for espousing the unusual when he tells candidates for congress that he will figuratively cut their throats if they come piggining to bring back any more post office, banana, "dicks or relief for bean thrip victims."

"What he wants is a rledge for economy in governmental operations," he says, he tells them as follows:

"If you are going up there to see what you can get for this district, I am against you. If you are going up there to see what help you can give to reduce appropriations, cut down the cost of running the government, put a stop to pork-barreling, stop building post office and other unnecessary structures, check this terrific burden of taxation, make it possible for the small businessman to survive, I will be for you."

"What you must decide, as a candidate, is whether you are going to help save my life or try to make yourself famous. If you are for me, I'll be for you. If you are for me, here's hoping you be defeated gloriously."

It is easy to see where The News publisher stands on the senatorial race. The chief issue is to reduce appropriations. Running by himself as an advocate of the balanced budget is Congressman Mark Wilson of the fourth district. The formula laid down by Mr. Menninger fits only the congressman.

We don't if he finds any candidates for the house of representatives to shun pork and take a strong stand for cutting governmental expenses. It is so hard to gloss over the fact that what we spend must pay back with interest in taxes. It is so hard to sell the people on an ability to put an end to raiding the treasury.

In the end the Martin county publisher himself may have to run to give 'life' to his beneficiaries. He can't expect the ordinary politician to do it.—Miami Herald.

QUEER STRUCTURE

NEW YORK—Although the triangle is one of the simplest of geometrical forms, its first use for construction on a tall scale was the 700-foot Tiverton at the New York World's Fair 1939.

RECORD SCULPTURE

NEW YORK—So large is the statue of George Washington being constructed for the New York World's Fair that a man standing on his chin could not reach above his forehead.

BRAZIL AT FAIR

NEW YORK—Planning to spend not less than $1,000,000 at the New York World's Fair 1939, Brazil has signed a contract for 48,000 square feet of exhibit space.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

This is the season of the year when political propagandists begin to break out with the itch and assume the task of enlightening the world as to the direction and velocity of political winds.

Cracked and time-worn crystals are dragged out of the attic, dusted off and put into service. Self-appointed southerners do robe and turban and attempt to conduct a more or less disinterested clientele with facts, figures and force.

The position of the moon, stars and planets are taken into consideration. While sun spots are viewed with or without alarm as these self-styled wise men pretend to inform the lesser intelligent.

Frank T. Tracey, the Jacksonville barber, who, sank without trace plans results in the last campaign proved his prophecies as well as a liquor dealer's convention has bobbed up again. Subject: "THE GOD WHO BACKS OUR LIFE."

NEW ROOF COLOR IS BEAUTY TREND

Artist Hails Charm Of Homes Topped by Shingles In Tasteful Hues

NEW YORK—The recent development of color in roofing is one of the most significant steps in American home building in many years, according to architects and artists.

Among the latter is Dean Cornwell, famous New York mural painter. The American suburb today is a more attractive place than it used to be, he declared recently, "and a great deal of that charm has come in the introduction of tastefully chosen roof colors. We who paint naturally welcome any new trend toward beauty in architecture. And beauty in the home is the most beneficial of all."

A survey of modernized homes selected at random, indicates how true this is. Whereas the old-fashioned shingle was usually of a dingy neutral color, the new type of shingle, with the mineral-surface asphalt shingle, however, is being used in a variety of colors.

The choice of color in asphalt shingles depends to a large extent upon the type and architectural lines of the house. The white colonial home, for instance, would look queer if roofed with shingles of intermingled colors. On such a home, neutral colors are preferable. But for other types of homes, roofs of red, or blue, or brown give the home a distinctive and attractive appearance.

The fire-resistant quality of the newer types of roofing, such as asphalt shingles, is an important factor in their constant widening use. More than 500 cities and towns in the United States require that fire-resistant roofing be used. But even in those localities where fire-resistant roofing is not required by law, homeowners have found it wise to apply such roofing material both on new structures and in re-roofing.

A surprising percentage of fires originate outside of the home and sparks which might otherwise result in disastrous damage fail to find a resting place on the mineral surface of an asphalt shingle roof.

NINE WAR FLEETS EXPECTED AT FAIR

NEW YORK—Although one of the purposes of the New York World's Fair 1939 will be to bring the nations together in the interests of peace and goodwill, there will be enough warships and planes near the grounds to start a first-class war. Nine foreign governments plan to send fleets of ships or planes while the exposition is in progress.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY

By James W. Boardley

GAINESVILLE: The first week of the second semester here at the University of Florida has just finished much to the joy and delight of the majority of the students.

Classes got under way last Tuesday with a big rushing litter and thither by many of the boys seeking to straighten out course changes which had been improperly made out. This was soon set aright and within a couple of days everything was going off as well as could be expected.

Monday night a boxing match with the University of Tennessee started the big second semester program of athletic activities with an undisturbed shut-out over the Tennessee mitt slingers. Tuesday White Ryan, professional boxer, champion of the world, exhibited his complete mastery of the game at the Florida Union. Also on Tuesday George O. Fehring, field secretary of the Medical Bureau, spoke at the Spanish Democracy, spoke and showed moving pictures of the present Spanish turmoil.

Wednesday night before approximately 300 students, John Sloan, South Carolina's scientist, performed a series of experiments with liquid air in the agricultural building. Tuesday night some very interesting games of the evolution of the moving picture industry were shown at the Florida Union. Friday night the Florida basketballers defeated a like aggregation from Tampa. And goes the round of extra-curricular activities at the university.

Among those who spent the inter-semester days at home were the following: Lake Coleman, G.

W. Byrd and Arthur Larrimore, of Pahokee; Jim Beaurivier, Richard Bestor; Bob Patterson, Ed Clark, and Coburn Moore, of Clewiston; and Ashton Thomas, of Lake Harbor.

BOOST CHEMISTRY

NEW YORK—The wonders of industrial chemistry will be the theme of a single exhibit at the New York World's Fair 1939, occupying 36,222 square feet of floor space.

The Florida industrial civilization at no cost to the state has paid out in salaries and supplies purchased from the merchants of the state more than $200,000 since January 1, 1937.

HUGE APPROPRIATION

NEW YORK—New York State did not lag behind when construction of the New York World's Fair 1939 began, appropriating $5,460,000 to be spent on its fair exhibits and buildings.

The present business recession has found 21 states prepared with an unemployment compensation reserve fund sufficient to keep the steadily rising tide of unemployment workers from the rolls of charity and relief.

Employers liable under the State unemployment compensation law who have received an extension of time on their 1937 taxes from the internal revenue department will be accorded the same privilege by the Florida industrial commission.

Old Age Assistance Available In State Without New Burden To Taxpayers

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 17.—Florida counties have benefited both through a reduction in their expenditures for general relief and through added assistance for the needy by the operations of the State Welfare act, it was pointed out in a statement issued here by Clayton C. Codrington, state commissioner.

Palm Beach county, he said, is now receiving far more through Old Age Assistance and aid to the blind than it expended for both Old Age Assistance and general relief in June of 1937, the month prior to the induction into office of the State Welfare board. Comparison was made of June and December, the welfare operation for the first half of the welfare fiscal year.

The figures, as obtained from reports to State Welfare headquarters here, show that during June of last year Palm Beach county had 423 cases, representing 1,023 individuals who received general relief to the amount of $3,249.00, and that it then had 400 Old Age Assistance cases receiving $6,867.50. The total amount expended for the month by the county for relief under the two categories was $6,663.50.

In December 653 residents of Palm Beach county received Old Age Assistance pay checks amounting to $12,445.00 from the state and federal government, and the county was then expending $3,201.35 for general relief.

Summed up, 653 persons were receiving Old Age Assistance in December as compared to 400 in June, while the county's income from this source was $12,445.00 as compared with its outlay of $6,867.50 in June. 1,023 persons were on general relief in June and 1,000 in December, receiving respectively $3,249.00 and $3,201.35.

General relief and Old Age Assistance expenditures for the entire state during June were $11,967.20. Old Age Assistance alone for December was $98,406.00.

Aid to the blind was not included in the statistics, as this form of public assistance did not begin until January of this year.

Since funds for the payment of Old Age Assistance and aid to the blind come from the beverage tax and matching federal money, these benefits are made possible.

without new taxation, as promised by Governor Cone in his campaign statements, it was pointed out.

Berry Festival To Draw Large Crowds

PLANT CITY, Feb. 16.—(FNS).—Indications this week pointed to the largest and most colorful parade in the history of the annual strawberry fête on opening day of the 9th Florida Strawberry Festival here next Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 22. The parade will get under way at 1:30 o'clock to course its way to the Festival grounds.

Another spectacular parade which is expected to draw several thousand visitors and their families will be that of the Dokkies of this province on Thursday at 2 p.m. Then on Friday afternoon at 2:15 the annual Baby Parade will be staged and indications now are that it will be the largest ever held.

Coronation ceremonies on the evening of February 24, will be the high light of the festival and official state the participants a record-breaking crowd on that date.

FIRESTONE PASSES

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 10.—(FNS).—Death took the second member of Florida's famous winter season trio Monday when Harvey S. Firestone passed away at his home here.

Thomas Edison, Marvyn S. Firestone and Henry Ford were for years three inseparable companions in the Florida winter scene. Edison died several years ago. The death of Firestone Monday leaves only Henry Ford remaining of these three men who did so much for the advancement of the industrial world and the comfort and convenience of its citizens.

THE QUEST

Gold

Was De Soto's Dream!

STORIES of gold nuggets traded to first explorers by Florida Indians fired the hopes of Hernando de Soto. Seeking gold he set out from Spain and landed on the West Coast of Florida in 1539. His daughter, Sara, died in the New World — was buried — legend says — in the bay that now bears her name, Sarasota.

A GREATER WEALTH TODAY
Many in quest of happy living have discovered a real aid in modern lighting. A flood of mellow light is gay for company, useful for evenings at home — eliminates eyestrain — all at surprisingly low cost. See the smart new L. E. S. lamps at your electrical dealer's.
